

rings

Whether ready-to-wear or custom designed, there are many options for metals and gemstones to make your rings uniquely yours. Trust a reputable professional to help you find a metal that works well with your lifestyle and occupation, and gemstones that are the cut, color & clarity you desire. Costs will vary depending on the metals and gemstones chosen, so have a budget in mind and a vision or photos of designs you like. Add special touches and personalization with a unique metal, textured finishes, or custom engraving. Following your nuptials, be sure to continue with basic cleanings and have gemstones checked quarterly for loose or broken settings.

TIPS

- Discuss with your fiance if you want matching bands or any other type of personalization.
- Decide if you want custom designed or ready-to-wear rings.
- Always work with a reputable jeweler you can trust.
- Ask the jeweler for metal recommendations that are suiting to your job and lifestyle.
- Have the jeweler explain the cut, color & clarity so you get the quality of gemstone you desire.
- Ask your jeweler about conflict-free certification on your gem purchase.
- Get tips on cleaning and care, and warranties for replacing stones or the entire ring, in case of loss.
- Don't forget to continue getting your settings checked regularly.
- Check with your insurance agency to get the rings added to your renters or homeowners policy.
