

rentals Event design

From the basics of tables, linens, and dinnerware to the special touches of signage, lounge furniture and specialty lighting, rental companies and event designers have what you need and can help create the look you desire that is truly your own. Whether you need a canopy or a tent for an outdoor affair or would like to create your own unique spaces within your reception space with chic draping, it's time to mix it up, express your style, and be creative! From classic or modern to rustic, industrial, or boho, the options abound!

WHAT TO KNOW AND ASK

- Know what your ceremony and reception venues already provide.
- What are your essential rental needs and what extra design elements do you wish to incorporate?
- Have a mood board and color palette to express the overall vision, and look to your event designer for advice on how you can enhance this vision or how to revise to stay within budget.
- Compare your wants and needs to your budget and decide what is most important.
- You will need a guest count for ordering tables, chairs, and dinnerware.
- Who will deliver, set up, decorate, tear down, and return items; what additional fees would be involved.
- Be sure to order extra pieces when it comes to dinnerware or glassware to be sure you have enough and in case of accidents.
- Find out the fee for broken or missing items.

A photograph of an outdoor dining setup. A long wooden table is covered with a blue tablecloth and set with white dishes, glasses, and floral centerpieces. A French-style linen sofa is positioned behind the table. The scene is set outdoors with lush green trees in the background and string lights hanging above. The text 'A LA CRATE RENTALS' is overlaid in white, with a stylized 'A' logo in the center.
